

My LEGOLAND Experience

I can have fun at LEGOLAND Discovery Center Philadelphia!

Developed in partnership with Ruttenberg Autism Center

There are so many fun things to do here!

I might have to wait in a long line for some of the attractions.

I can count the LEGO while I wait.

Or I can choose to sit and practice building with LEGO.

I can build a racecar...

...and use it at the Motor Test Center!

I can build my own LEGO Ninja...

...or a LEGO Friend!

If I go to MINILAND, I can see creations that look like the city during the day...

...and at night.

I can see fireworks without it being too loud!

At the front desk, I can sign up for a class with my parent.

I can learn to build a creation in the Creative Workshop!

Sometimes, there is a friendly adult who will challenge me and other kids to build with LEGO in the Build Challenge Arena!

I can choose to get active and try the pirate ship!

I will have to squeeze through tunnels and crawl through tight spaces in the pirate ship.

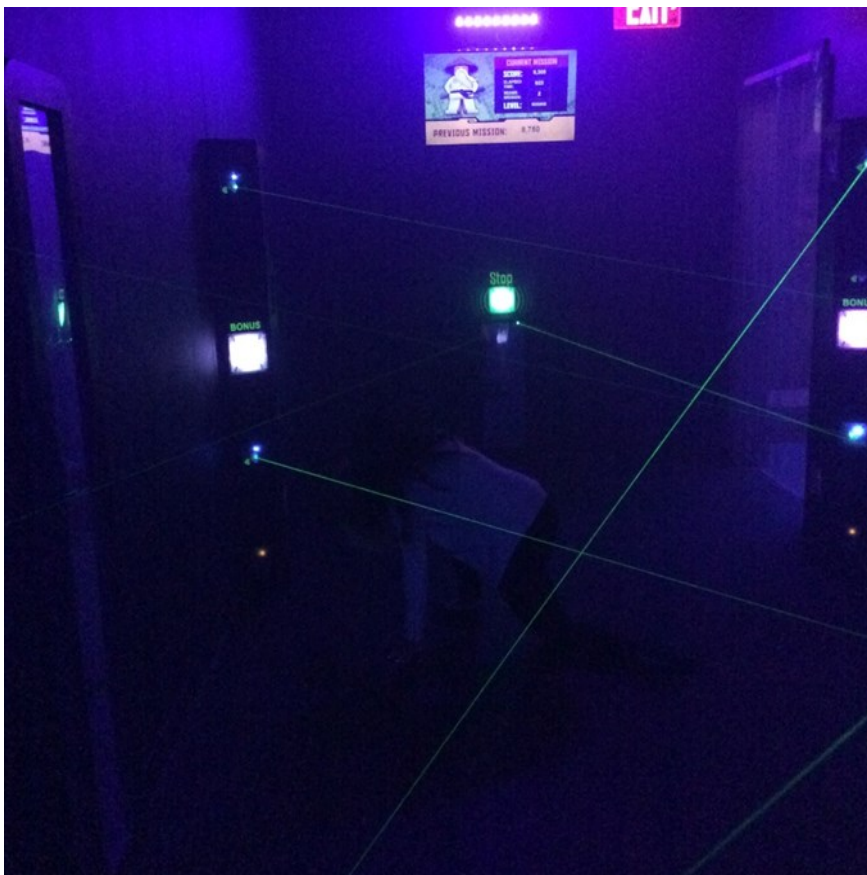

I can read the rules to decide if I am comfortable taking off my shoes to play in the pirate ship.

If I am not bothered
by laser lights and fog...

...I can test
my skills in the Ninjago Training Camp
laser maze!

There is also a 4D movie theater.
I can see when each movie is playing.

Schedule

Movies play throughout the day at approximately 15 minute intervals

	10: 15	12: 30	2: 45	5: 00
	11: 00	1: 15	3: 30	5: 45
	11: 45	2: 00	4: 15	6: 30
				7: 15
	10: 30	1: 30	3: 45	6: 00
	11: 15	2: 15	4: 30	6: 45
	12: 45	3: 00	5: 15
	10: 45	1: 00	3: 15	5: 30
	11: 30	1: 45	4: 00	6: 15
	12: 15	2: 30	4: 45	7: 00

The 4D movie theater is big.
It may be loud and bright.

The fog could bother my eyes,
and I might also get wet.

I can leave the movie early if I am uncomfortable.

I can go to the Coffee Shop to take a break and maybe have a snack.

I can't forget to ride Imagination Express, if I like loud noises and am able to sit for the whole ride.

On the ride, there is even a game where
I can try to get the most points!

It is important that I follow the rules so I can have fun and stay safe!
